

Country Introduction

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines (also known as SVG) is a 32 island nation in the Lesser Antilles, located in the Eastern Caribbean Sea. SVG gained independence from Great Britain on October 27th 1979, and operates under a parliamentary system of government. The country consists of the volcanic mainland Saint Vincent, along with its Grenadine islands, both of which are world renowned for their pristine white and black sand beaches, vibrant coral reefs and unspoiled natural beauty.

Combined with its beautiful landscapes, cultural experience is also a major part of SVG's identity. Many unique festivals such as the country's Vincy Mas Carnival, Easterval and Christmas Nine Mornings festivals take center stage on the country's calendar. These attract thousands of visitors worldwide each year, and are a must-visit for anyone seeking an authentic Caribbean experience.

Saint Vincent and the Grenadines is a premier destination for investments. With over seven (7) main sectors to choose from, the main industries include Agro-Processing, Creative Industries and Light Manufacturing, along with a budding and extremely promising Tourism sector. It is a nation with low barriers to entry, an educated work force and friendly, hospitable people. The island-nation is quickly becoming a
